Tribute to Former Alexandrian.

Dallas, Texas, March 27.

Dear Sir—Here on a visit to my niece I was shown in the Arkansas Gazette of February 16 a tribute to our Aunt Kate Hooper and feel that I must tell the people of the South that it was no trouble for that dear woman to be courageous. She inherited it from her mother. I need not give any account of her ancestors, as your fellow townsmen and her old schoolmate, Samuel F. Caton, gave that two years ago, so I will say they belonged to the pioneers of Fairfax county. Her mother was reared in affluence, but after twelve years of married life was left a widow with five little orphans. Homes were offered for every one of her children by her friends, but she give up her children? Never, but with perfect faith in God she took up her burden. The only way in those days was the needle, and Centreville was a small place. The baby, Thomas Benton, could not walk and did not for four years. Kate, the next to him, was put in his cradle to rock him day after day, while the mother served. She had no childhood no time to play. He, the baby, was sick, cross and fretful. Kate soon looked after him as her charge, never murmered, and when he could walk she took him wherever she went. Her mother said she moulded his character. At 18 she married, went to Alexandria to live, took her mother and her brother to her home, and a home in reality, (the other children were then grown). Whatever position in life this brother may have filled I know he would say he owed it all to her, for we never knew him to tell a lie. Could he clothe her in purple and fine linen, he could never pay the debt of such unselfish love. So you see the child developed into the woman. T. A. McLean could confer no higher honor on Senator Tillman than to espouse the cause of this woman. Men of today, imagine if you can after long months of marching and after a hard fought battle, weary, footsore, tired, and hungry, without one cent, carried far from home to prison, and be told by a fellow prisoner to look on the wall. It did not need a Daniel to interpret Aunt Kate Hooper 118 Cameron street, Alexandria, Va., were the words filling home for such a woman. Alexandria whose streets had been walked by Washington and Lee. Sacred memories cluster around that city. Then beg a stamp from another prisoner, write and wait for her answer. Can you imagine the feeling? I ask. Then comes the answer, asking our needs with the assurance they will be supplied (and they were); also asking our home address, so she could relieve the anxiety of our mother. Why men if she had never done anything for us, what did it mean to the prisoner to let his anxious mother know he was living. Why is it the South has not honored this woman long ago? Is it to follow the tradition of the Bible 40 years, and then raise up a Moses. You people have heard Ben Tillman defend a woman, Mrs. Morris, but there was indignation in his tones. Wait till you hear him on this subject and in thundering tones such as he can command. He will tell the entire South it is not in their power to give her but a double debt. Why these letters are as much history of the South as any battle ever fought, and it will not be 30 days after he tells it before she will be well provided for in her old days, and not have her living to make. May I ask Senator Bailey, of Texas, to be the Aaron to follow Moses, as there are more Texas names on her list than any other State, and her father and oldest brother's given name was Bailey. I met a man from Batesville a few years ago in Florida, named Hale. He captured our crowd by saying he never boasted of but two things. One was he was a Confederate soldier, the other, he was born in Arkansas. To Miss Padgett, I say if her visit to the Old Soldier's Home, in Little Rock, is the cause of Aunt Kate being honored she deserves a medal. Possibly her father will give her his letter from Gen. Lee, as we people consider a scratch of a pen from Gen. Lee sacred. I saw a man pay fifteen dollars for his signature, and her father's was not bought. Aunt Kate used to say if her courage failed her she would go to her front door and look at the church where Washington and Lee worshiped, then go on to the depot to meet the prisoners. Let me quote the last lines of the old Mississippi Veteran:

May the gates of heaven be opened wide
And every soldier be inside
When that great day shall come.
Maybe as one unbroken band
Around the throne of God to stand

BLOODSHED FEARED.

Blood may flow in Zion City, Illinois, as a result of the factional war there and the dethronement of John Alexander Dowie, otherwise "Elijah III," founder of the religious community. This is the belief of Mrs. Dowie, according to the statement made yesterday by her friends.

Mrs. Dowie's fear is based upon rumors that the faction supporting the "First Apostle," her husband, had grown so strong that a serious conflict will be inevitable on the arrival of her husband, who reached Mexico City yesterday morning on his way home to confront his enemies within the fold. He is known to be losing no time in his northward flight, and is keeping the wires hot with messages to his lieutenants, in which he voices his wrath against former trusted advisers who turned upon him in the recent conclave which cast him from his dictatorship.

Ever since the disclosures were made concerning the aged prophet's efforts to divorce his wife in order to marry Miss Ruth Hofer, the Swiss heiress, whom he converted to his peculiar creed, Mrs. Dowie and her son, the "unkissed" Gladstone Dowie, have been angered against him and in active co-operation with the enemy.

The report current at this time was that Gladstone Dowie, the unkissed son of the "prophet," was in love with Miss Hofer, and would marry her. It appears now that Gladstone Dowie was not smitten with the Swiss heiress, but rather resented her presence in the Dowie household, in the belief that she had misplaced his mother in his father's affections.

Dowie had planned a divorce from his wife, stating that he had had a vision in which "God had ordered him to divorce Jane Dowie with all haste," and the papers were ready for filing when Dowie was stricken with paralysis. The papers are still with his lawyers awaiting his instructions.

Gladstone Dowie made public yesterday afternoon two of his father's letters to Miss Hofer, who suddenly returned to Europe after Mrs. Dowie had found her stroking Dowie's forehead in their home in Zion City. The letters read:

My Little Lump of Gold: I am praying for you today and am hoping to hear again your words of comfort. I know you cannot change, for you are the same yesterday and today, yea, and forever. I want to hear again your expressions of faith, for they give me now hope in the womanhood of Zion. You have demonstrated to me that Christ is to rule in the spirits, souls and bodies of my people. The eyes of the world are upon John Alexander Dowie, first apostle of the Lord Jesus, the Christ, in the Christian Catholic Church in Zion. Come to me again today and pray with me. Yours till the devil tires,
JOHN ALEXANDER.

Child of my heart—the devil is at work. He has stolen his way into my home. Fear not the harsh words of women possessed of evil thought. They slander and rave as the outcome of imaginary ills and burdens. The Lord sent you to me. He spoke unto me instructions. Let the words of thy mouth and meditation of thy heart be acceptable to the chosen children. You were sent to the apostle and first priest, and the trials you have undergone were merely to test your faith. As always,
JOHN ALEXANDER.

Danger From The Plague.

There's grave danger from the plague of Coughs and Colds that are so prevalent, unless you take Dr King's New Discovery for Consumption, Coughs and Colds. Mrs. Geo Walls, of Forest City, Me., writes: "It's a Godsend to people living in climates where coughs and colds prevail. I find it quickly ends them. It prevents Pneumonia, cures LaGrippe, gives wonderful relief in Asthma and Hay Fever, and makes weak lungs strong enough to ward off Consumption, Coughs and Colds. 50c and $1.00. Guaranteed at E. S. Leadbeater & Sons' drug store. Trial bottle free.

FOR OVER SIXTY YEARS

AN OLD AND WELL-TRIED REMEDY.—Mrs. Winslow's Soothing Syrup has been used for over sixty years by millions of mothers for their children while teething with perfect success. It soothes the child, softens the gums, allays all pain, cures wind colic and is the best remedy for Diarrhœa. Is pleasant to the taste. Sold by druggists in every part of the world. Twenty-five cents a bottle. Its value is incalculable. Be sure and ask for Mrs. Winslow's Soothing Syrup and take no other kind.

About Rheumatism.

There are few diseases that inflict more torture than rheumatism and there is probably no disease for which such a varied and useless lot of remedies have been suggested. To say that it can be cured is, therefore, a bold statement to make, but Chamberlain's Pain Balm, which enjoys an extensive sale, has met with great success in the treatment of this disease. One application of Pain Balm will relieve the pain, and hundreds of sufferers have testified to permanent cures by its use. Why suffer when Pain Balm affords such quick relief and costs but a trifle? For sale by Gibson and Timberman and W. F. Creighton and Company.

Alexandria Gazette
SIC SEMPER TYRANNIS
AND VIRGINIA ADVERTISER

FRIDAY EVENING. APRIL 6, 1906.

AN energetic effort is being made by Japan to extend the market for Japanese fish, especially sardines, and thus prevent the closing of many canning establishments which were opened during the war with Russia. Some of the finest sardines of the world are caught off the coast of Japan, but the greater part of the little fish before the war were used as fertilizers. The opening of the canning factories was the beginning of a new industry, which thrived wonderfully during the war, the trade being confined chiefly to the local market, but now the producers have embraced the idea of entering the expert trade and trying to vie with France in the sale of sardines. In this industry Japan must reckon with New England, for there millions of smelts and small herring are packed in lard or cotton seed oil, sold as sardines and shipped as such all over the world.

IN SPEAKING of the complaint made in the Senate on Wednesday by Senator Daniel that the southern section of the country is little represented in public life, the Philadelphia Record says:

Senator Daniels is justified in complaining that the South has for many years been so little represented in public life, but it is not entirely, as he intimates, a survival of civil war feelings. We have had republican Presidents most of the time since the war, and of course they do not look in democratic States for many of their appointees. But it is well that the Virginia Senator's protests has led to provision for two representatives of the South at the Pan-American conference. That section is particularly interested in our relations with the republics south of us.

DISPATCHES from New York state that thousands of employes of the New York Central and Hudson River Railroad are soon to be laid off, temporarily at least. It is explained that this action will be due to the usual spring falling off in freight traffic and the additional fact that as a result of labor troubles in the coal regions the coal shipment over the company's lines are being reduced. It is feared that the miners' strike, even if of short duration, will cause the loss of work to many thousand men throughout the country and bring about much suffering in consequence.

SPEAKER CANNON in a letter to the potters of East Liverpool, Ohio, says revision of the tariff is sure to come. The letter says:

I am satisfied that there will be no tariff revision this Congress, but it goes without saying that the desire for a change which exists in the common mind will drive the republican party, if continued in power, to tariff revision. I do not want it, but it will come in the not distant future.

And he may be relied upon to exercise all his powers to prevent any tariff revision so long as he is Speaker of the House.

IT IS reported that Maxim Gorky, the Russian emancipator, is on his way to the United States to inaugurate an agitation among Russian refugees and friends of liberty in general to the end that the present autocratic government of the Czar may be overthrown. It is to be regretted that Gorky is coming to this country on any such mission. There are enough agitators here now, and the people of the United States have troubles of their own.

A LUMBER firm in Maine has shipped two million fibre pie plates to a pie baker of Providence. This seems to settle the question as to what city may be regarded as the capital of the pie belt and raises a suspicion that the fibre plates may be converted into one of the many ingredients of the pie. This would be no worse than wooden nutmegs.

IT IS said that Speaker Cannon stands dead against any government money being spent for the Jamestown Exposition, and will not allow the bill to be called up in any shape. This but shows what power the Speaker has and how one man can stand in the way of the majority in the House of Representatives of a representative government.

LINCOLN STEFFENS, speaking before a class of Yale students yesterday declared that New York and Chicago were the least corrupt cities in the the United States. This will be a jolt to those who take delight in deriding the democratic management of the two largest cities in the country.

ALTHOUGH the next gubernatorial election is more than three-and-a-half years off there are already nearly a dozen candidates in the field for Governor of Virginia. It is predicted that several of these candidates will soon realize their previousness and will be overcome by that tired feeling.

Call money on the New York Stock Exchange yesterday reached 30 per cent. the flurry in the rate continuing after the exchange opened yesterday morning, followng Wednesday's rise.

From Washington.

[Correspondence of the Alexandria Gazette.]

Washington, April 6

A dispatch to the State Department today from Huntington Wilson, charge d'affaires of the American embassy at Tokio, states that a supplementary extradition treaty between the United States and Japan has been signed. There is an extradition treaty now in force between the two countries and the new convention is intended to cover certain points not mentioned in the existing agreement.

Speaker Cannon explaining his letter to an East Liverpool potter, in which he declares that revision of the tariff will come, this afternoon authorized the following statement, in which he defies the democrats to make immediate tariff revision the issue in the coming congressional campaign: "I was not aawre that I was writing for publication, though I have no objection to the publication. There are many people in the country who believe a single schedule or a few schedule may be amended. This is entirely impracticable, for an amendment to a single schedule might please a single interest only and could not command enough votes to pass it. Nothing can, in my judgment, be done except a complete revision of the tariff, which would be a compomise that would command a majority of the 386 members of the House and 90 Senators. "The enactment of such a revision and the time necessary for business to adjust to it would halt production, consumption and commerce for at least 12 months, and when the compromise is enacted, as a whole, would probably not be an improvement on existing law. I do not believe a majority of the people at this time desire to interfere with the present conditions, which is the most prosperous condition in the history of the republic to the laborer, the farmer, the capitalist and the consumers. That the time will come when a general revision will be entered upon I have no doubt, but for the best interests of all the people, such revision should be postponed as long as practicable. Congress reflects the will of the people, and the House is chosen every two years. There is a general congressional election in November. Our friend, the enemy, insist on immediate revision. If after full discussion a majority desire immediate revision, they will make their will known bp retruning a majority of the House in favor of an immediate revision."

Senator Rayner, of Maryland, had a long conference with the President this morning on the pending railroad rate bill. He is the fifth democratic Senator that had visited the White House for this purpose at the invitation of the President within three days, the others being Senators Clay, Foster, Daniel and Overman. Mr. Rayner recently made a brilliant speech with regard to rate legislation, advocating the Hepburn bill with some slight modifications. It is understood that the President is much encouraged over the outlook for favorable action by the Senate. He believes that he can get enough democratic votes for the bill with the limited judicial review amendment to make up for the loss of such republicans as are opposed.

The Interstate Commerce Commission announces that the first hearing in the investigation of the alleged railroad monopoly in coal and oil, as provided for by the Tillman-Gillespie resolution, will be had at Philadelphia, on the morning of Tuesday, April 10. With the Philadelphia hearing, the Interstate Commerce Commission will begin its investigation of the eastern bituminous coal fields, including western Pennsylvania and West Virginia. The ownership and general character of operations and the relation of the railroad lines in the transportation of the coal to tidewater and eastern points will be involved. The next hearing will probably be held in Baltimore or Washington, The Philadelphia hearing will probably consume but one day.

The joint army and navy board has made an urgent recommendation to the President that adequate fortifications be provided for the isthmian canal. What is designed to be a model insurance code for all the States has been introduced in Congress by Representative Ames, of Massachusetts, who proposes to have it enacted into law for the District of Columbia. President Roosevelt will probably send a message to Congress urging its adoption as the remedy for abuses of power and privileges by insurance companies. It embraces the ideas of the insurance commissioners of most of the States and was drafted by a committee of fifteen appointed for that purpose by the recent Chicago convention of insurance commissioners. The bill proposes to establish a bureau of insurance headed by an insurance commissioner, in the Department of Commerce and Labor. To him all the domestic and foreign companies in the District would have to present annual reports. In these there must be shown who are the actual borrowers of all money loaned; all commissions paid to any persons in connection with loans, purchases or sales of property; details about all money expended in connection with any matter pending before any legislative body or before officers of the government; salaries of officers receiving more than $5,000, and the largest balances carried in each bank or trust company. All this would be made public. The bill also provides for an annual distribution of dividends; that no salary of more than $5,000 shall be paid by any life insurance company, unless approved by a vote of the board of directors and that no pension shall be granted. A provision is included against political campaign contributions, violation of this section being made a misdemeanor and persons testifying thereto being given immunity.

Washington, April 6.

SENATE.

Right Rev. J. F. Johnson, Bishop of Western Texas, assisted Chaplain Hale in the opening of the Senate today.

When the railway rate bill was taken up, Mr. Elkins, chairman of the committee on Interstate Commerce, answered those who have charged that he was a railway Senator, that he had conducted the bearings of the committee on the rate bill in the interests of the railways and that he was attempting to becloud the issue and prevent the enactment of a rate regulating law.

"I have no interest that can affect my judgment or prevent me doing my duty as a Senator as I see it," he declared. "My desire and highest purpose is to secure and serve the public interest."

He stated unequivocily that he was in hearty accord with the President on the subject of rate regulation. He maintained, however, that the Hepburn bill in its present form was deficient in that it failed to provide against many of the evils from which the people were suffering, and that it was unconstitutional in that it contained no judicial review provision.

HOUSE.

Mr. Rainey, when the House met today, took the floor to conclude his tariff speech, interrupted by the adjournment of yesterday.

This relates to a contest among the Daughters in that State over their representation at Washington.

New York Stock Market.

New York, April 6.—Long before the usual time for beginning business in money there was a large number of brokers in the local crowd looking for accommodation to carry them over until Monday. The first loans were at 30 per cent. Many brokers made special arrangements with Russell Sage and other large money lenders, by which they obtained accommodation, the rate to be made later in the day. It was general comment that money was grabbed as soon as it was offered, but the impression is that the stringency for the day reached its highest point in the first hour. Money was the sole dominating factor in the trading at the opening. The market turned downward shortly after the opening and declines ranging from 1 to 3 points were recorded. In the last hour a better tone prevailed and prices rallied moderately, recovering about half the early losses.

Today's Telegraphic News

The Operators and Miners.

New York, April 6.—Pending a decision by the anthracite operators, whether they will accept the miners' proposal for an arbitration of their differences, the question of peace or war in the hard coal fields hangs in the balance. The operators' decision will be made known at the joint meeting of the operators and miners on Monday afternoon, but intimations were not lacking this morning that the operators would refuse to submit their differences to an arbitration board. This belief was strengthened by public utterances of David Wilcox, of the Delaware and Hudson Company, who says that the award of the anthracite commission was conclusive as to all facts and issues and that no new facts have been brought to public attention since the award.

The operators after much consideration of John Mitchell's proposition declared in a public statement that the proposal of an agreement to end in 1908—a presidential year—affords "a new opportunity to make this great industry the football of politics."

The operators again called attention to the fact that the laws of Pennsylvania forbade an agreement on the "check-off" system, and that as a matter of further fact they would not agree to it.

The operators did not indicate that they would not submit the question of wages and hours, as well as a reconstructed conciliation board to arbitration. This is taken as a hopeful sign by the miners, who believe that Mitchell's move has placed the operators in such a position that if they refuse to arbitrate the public will swing its full influence to the cause of the miners. The operators are giving the proposal their full consideration, and whatever their answer may be, it will be the expression of much thought and consideration. The operators are today sounding the opinions of independent operators on the proposition for arbitration.

It has been practically decided that the next convention of miners will be held at Hazelton.

There was a brief meeting of the scale committee this morning but nothing of importance was done. Mr. Mitchell was asked what he had to say regarding the statements of Wilcox, and he replied that he had nothing to say. "Do you think the proposition for arbitration will be accepted? "I have hopes that it will. I would not have proposed it unless I thought so."

Mr. Mitchell would not talk about alleged dynamite outrages near Wilkes-Barre. He said the situation in the bituminous fields was as satisfactory as he had hoped. Mr. Mitchell said that none of the miners in Indiana had returned to work under the old wage scale and that the miners would not return to work until the wage scale of 1903 was signed.

Philadelphia, April 6.—At the offices of the Philadelphia & Reading Coal and Iron Company, here, this morning, it was admitted that all of the anthracite operators had been sounded regarding the mine workers' arbitration proposition and that the operators will absolutely decline to submit any of the questions at issue to arbitration.

Indianapolis, Ind., April 6.—John H. Winder, a leader of the bituminous coal "standpatter" operators, today telegraphed to President Roosevelt and to President Mitchell, of the United Mine Workers of America, that the bituminous operators of Ohio proposed to Mitchell to settle the strike in the bituminous districts on the same term that Mitchell proposes to the anthracite operators by arbitration. The offer regarded as a skillful move made by Mitchell and the anthracite miners scale committee to the anthracite operators yesterday afternoon to throw their points of controversy to arbitration is thus set upon the bituminous operators, who are holding aloof from meeting the miners' demands. Winder, operators' representatives say, has caught Mitchell in his own trap. The miners did not wish to have their case arbitrated; the anthracite operators do not wish arbitration of their differences.

Unfortunate Princess Louise.

Copenhagen, April 6.—The tragic death of Princess Louise of Schaumburg-Lippe, which occurred at the Castle of her father-in-law, Prince William of Schaumburg-Lippe, in Nacho-Bohemia, on Wednesday, has aroused the deepest sympathy for her, owing to her unhappy married life. She was the eldest daughter of the present king of Denmark. Her death occurred only five hours after Prince William expired at the same castle from an attack of heart disease. Princess Louise was wedded suddenly to Prince Heinrich of Denmark, as supposed, because of an unfortunate passion for the son of the palace gardener. The husband turned out to be a reckless gambler and a bully. The Princess tried to secure a divorce, but King Christian of Denmark, who died a short time ago, refused his permission to go ahead with the proceedings because of the accompaning scandal. Some time ago the Princess was almost drowned while bathing and was rescued at the last moment, but it was rumord that she was courting death. She had been lingering from a painful cerebral trouble, supposed to have been caused by a bullet which she fired into her body injuring the spine. During her illness neither of the parents of her husband visited the Princess. There is no sign of mourning at the court.

Passage of Woman Suffrage Bill

Providence, R. I., April 6.—The Senate yesterday passed the woman's suffrage bill, so far as it relates to voting for President of the United States. The gallery was crowded with women who have had the cause dear to their hearts for many years and have been disappointed at each recurring session of the legislature. The vote for the bill was gratifying, for it was carried, 29 to 7. It was whispered in the lobby that the bill would be held up at the other end of the Capitol, and it is understood that many affirmative votes were cast with that understanding.

Strikes in France.

Lens, France, April 5.—The efforts which have been made to bring the coal strike to an end have again failed, as a congress of miners today voted to continue the strike.

Paris, April 6.—All the drivers of delivery wagons connected with the Paris mail service, went out on strike this morning.

This afternoon the government yielded to the strikers granting all the demands of the men, and the strike was called off.

Von Buelow's Condition.

Berlin, April 6.—The physicians' bulletins this morning in regard to von Buelow say he passed a good night and is progressing satisfactorily. The gossips, however, are already discussing the question of who will succeed the chancellor. There is an uneasy feeling on the Bourse because the retirement of Prince Von Buelow is regarded as certain and, secondly, because Herr Holstein, the permanent official of the Foreign Office, who will act in the chancellor's place during the leave of absence he will be compelled to take, is regarded as an aggressive Pan-German with strong antipathies to England and France. The illness of Prince von Buelow may easily react upon the international situation in a way unfavorable to maintaining the peace of the world. The Kaiser visited Chancellor von Buelow this morning and sat at his bedside for an hour. On his way to the chancellor's residence the Kaiser's automobile collided with a Mrs. Burchart wife of a wealthy merchant, knocking her down and seriously injuring her. The emperor hastily alighted from the car and rendered first aid to the injured woman. He helped to lift the woman into the automobile, and conveyed her to a hospital, then sent his own physician to inquire regarding her condition. The chief of police some time ago appealed to the emperor to instruct his chauffeur to be more reasonable in his method of speeding through the city, saying that unless the chauffeur changed his methods it would sooner or later result in injury to the Kaiser or to some one else.

Jumped from Window.

New York, April 6.—Dorothy Love, 21 years old, jumped from a front window of the second story of the Perling Hotel, Fiftieth street and Seventh avenue, early today, and died in Bellevue Hospital from the injuries sustained. The woman came to the hotel last night in company with a man who gave his name as William H. McGurken, said to be a son of a Harlem hotel proprietor

They retired to a room assigned to them on the second floor and, according to the police started quarrelling, which they kept up until the time the woman jumped from the window. McGurken was arrested on a charge of intoxication and was discharged in the west side police court later in the day.

Miss Love was a daughter of Dr. T. N. Love, a noted physician of St. Louis, and this city, who dropped dead on board the steamer Luran Lurania, as she was entering this port some time ago The woman before she died, said the man promised to marry her, but said he could not carry out his promise because another woman stood in the way. It is said that she led a gay life since coming to this city.

Funeral of Paul Nocquet.

New York, April 6.—The funeral of Paul Nocquet, the balloonist, whose dead body was found on Cott Island, was held today from the studio of Gutzon Borglum, No. 166 East 38th street. Besides the friends of the dead sculptor and aeronaut, the members of the Aero Club attended the services. The interment was in Pine Lawn Cemetery. Nocquet carried a camera with him on his fatal trip. The pictures which he took furnished the only first-hand account which the unfortunate young sculptor will ever be able to give of his fatal sky flight. The camera, a small pocket kodak, was found afterward in his overcoat pocket, saturated with water and crusted with mud. There were twelve films, but only six had been exposed. Darkness was undoubtedly responsible for the premature ending of this remarkable series.

Twenty-two Horses Burned.

Westminster, Md., April 6.—This town was threatened with destruction by fire early this morning, and for a time the population was in a state of intense excitement. Fire originating in the livery stable of Harry H. Harbaugh destroyed the building, with twenty-two horses, razed the residence of Mr. Harbaugh, from which his family narrowly escaped with their lives, and burned a portion of the Firemen's building before it was gotten under control. The damage will amount to about $25,000. Mr. Harbaugh was aroused by the roar of flames, and, calling to his wife, he hurried into an adjoining room where he awoke his three boys. The five persons huddled together made their way down a smoke choked stairway and out to the street in their night clothes.

Expeditions Against the Natives.

Greytown, Natal, Africa, April 6.—Punitive expeditions have started out against the natives under Bambaata, whose forces attacked the detachment of police sent to rescue a beleaguered crowd of women and children and later attacked the colonial field force at Impanza. The reports which have reached here as to the strength of Bambaata's following are probably exaggerated, as it is stated his men number 2,000. Many natives were forced to join his army, although they are loyal at heart. A fight between the troops and the natives is expected to occur this afternoon. The country in which Bambatta has located his men is covered with bushes and is of the worst possible nature for fighting. A press censorship has been established so that few dispatches are arriving.

The Hungarian Crisis.

Vienna, April 6.—Francis Kossuth and Count Andrassy, leaders of the Hungarian coalition party, who were summoned here yesterday to meet King-Emperor Francis Joseph, in regard to the Hungarian crisis, arrived this morning, and a settlement of the long standquarrel between the King-Emperor and the Hungarian parties has been reached. Doctor Wakerle, president of the Hungarian administrative court of justice, is expected here this evening. He is being talked of as likely to be made the new Hungarian Premier to succeed Baron Fejervary.

Button-Hole in Finger.

A machine that automatically cuts and stitches buttonholes in shoe uppers at the rate of a dozen a minute Tuesday stitched a buttonhole in Ella Hughes' finger at the Ferris shoe factory, in Camden, N. J., where she is employed. The injury was dressed at the Cooper Hospital, and Miss Hughes was later removed to her home, at No. 428 Chambers avenue. The surgeons said her injury was the oddest yet.

Anxious to Reinstate Dowie.

Chicago, April 6.—First steps have been taken to restore John Alexander Dowie to his own. Friends have come to the front with offers of their time, loyalty and cash. After having waited only to issued his defiant promise in distant Mexico rush to the scene and attack those who ousted him, those friends have acted. While Dowie is hurrying toward Chicago, hastily engaged counsel is speeding to meet him, to advise with him and lay the ground plans for a bitter legal fight, against Voliva and his followers. Dowie will trust to his eloquence and influence over the rank and file of the people of Zion, to win back his ecclesiastical position. Dowie's friends assert that they are informed on good authority that the insurgent movement was inspired by Chicago lawyers, and capitalists who are anxious to gain financial control of Zion as an investment proposition. They point out that the receivership proceedings that ended in a victory for Dowie was the move in the scheme, and its failure created other measures. Dowie's health and the knowledge that he might die at any moment, it is declared. Those anxious to get financial control of the properties it is asserted realize that should Dowie die while in power he might tie up the affairs for years, after his demise. The attorneys en route to meet Dowie are retained by his friends at no expense to the Zion leader or to the colony. They hold the action of overseer Voliva in transferring the properties, of the church to Deacon Granger under his power of attorney in defiance of telegraphic orders, will not hold. The attorneys have with them verbatim copies of all papers in the transfer and will confer with his associates in Chicago in regard to proposed moves in the legal tangle. Injunctions restraining Voliva from interfering with Dowie's personal liberty pending an opportunity to defend his acts before the councils of the church, is looked upon as the initial move. His friends are informed that steps have already been taken to bring about the arrest of Dowie the moment he arrives in Chicago on the ground that he is insane, thus throwing temporarily the affairs of Zion into the county courts.

Found Guilty.

Constantinople, April 6.—Four men charged with the murder of Reden Pasha, former prefect of the city who was assassinated recently, were found guilty today, and condemned to death. The fifth prisoner was acquitted.

At the trial it developed that Schamyl Pasha, and Abdur Resak, the two dignitaries who were expelled because a Kurd confessed that he had been hired by them to kill Reduan Pasha, had planned attacks upon several other important personages in Constantinople.

Dangerous and Peculiar Accident.

Buckingham, Va., April 6.—Millman Pease, a young man, was dangerously wounded in a singular way at the High School yesterday. Maxfield Pease, a younger brother of Millman, in a spirit of fun, had put his hat in his brother's seat in school and placed his lead pencil under it, and when Millman Pease came in he sat down on it, and the pencil point was driven up into his body. With a cry of pain he rushed out of the school room, and had to have a doctor to extract the pencil. Dr. J. B Nowlin, who was called on, said it was a very vital part which had been penetrated and the young man was in a precarious condition. He took him at once to the depot en route to Richmond, to be placed in one of the hospitals for treatment. The Pease family are northern people, having come here from New York, and are living in the old Eldridge house, now owned by Mrs. James Lyons. Mr. Pease, the father of the boy who was hurt, is a minister of the Unitarian Church, but at present engaged as a college professor.

School Board.

At the monthly meeting of the City School Board last night there were present: Captain Herbert Bryant, chairman, and Messrs. Thompson, Stabler, Yates, Ramsay, Bradshaw, Thomson, Carne, Carter, Smoot and the Superintendent.

Mr. Stabler reported that the work done on the buildings during the month was of minor importance; two cloak rooms had been put in Peabody building, as several of the childrens' cloaks had been stolen. He also reported that the fence around Washington building was almost beyond repair and that a new fence would soon be necessary. He also reported that Mr. Lawler had paid one half of the cost of the repairs to the fence at Seaton building.

Several bills for repairs and supplies were ordered to be paid.

The Superintendent reported that all of the schools had been in session since the last report except one of the white boys' schools, which was closed on March 31 by reason of the indisposition of the teacher. Mr. Greenwell had been sick during the month but his school had been kept open by a substitute. He suggested that holiday be given on Good Friday and Easter Monday and he was authorized to close the schools on those days.

The Superintendent read a circular from the Superintendent of Public Instruction concerning the examinations to be held on May 3, 4 and 5, and stated that as both the white and the colored teachers were to be examined on those days he would be compelled to have an assistant and possibly would have to close one of the schools on those days if he selected one of the teachers as his assistant.

After an interchange of views by the trustees the Superintendent was given discretionary power to carry out the order of the State Board of Education.

Mr Stabler inquired if a report of the number of days taught by the teachers should not be presented to the board.

The Superintendent replied he received such reports and informed the board at each meeting which teachers had been absent during the month.

Mr. Stabler replied that he knew of certainly one school which had been closed one Monday last month and that no report had been made of it.

The Superintendent said he knew nothing of it, but would make inquiry concerning the matter.

Mt. Vernon.

The regent and vice-regents of the Mount Vernon Association, says Town and Country, are to meet at Mount Vernon May second and third, when several new appointments will be made to fill vacancies from several states.

A vice regent will be appointed from Milwaukee, Wisconsin, in place of Mrs. Alexander Mitchell, who died several years ago. Mrs Mitchell was well known to prominent residents of the east, as her beautiful winter home, near Jacksonville, Fla., was a show place in that section, and she constantly entertained there.

The Mount Vernon Association was formed prior to the civil war. Its regency, a life office, is held by Mrs. Howard Townsend, of New York. It will be remembered that the garden and grounds about the historic mansion were restored to their original quaint beauty five or six years ago by Miss Beatrix Jones, daughter of Mrs. Cadwallader Jones, of New York, whose skill as a landscape gardener is undeniable.

Diffierent members of the association have given large sums of money toward the improvement of the grounds, among them being Mrs Phoebe Hearst, of San Francisco, vice-regent from California, who gave twenty-five thousand dollars to build the sea-wall of solid granite which now protects the grounds from the encroachments of the Potomac river. In Washington's day a wooden pier was erected, which, of course, disintegrated in time. The last great personage to be entertained at Mount Vernon was Prince Henry of Prussia, who placed a wreath on the first President's tomb, and, close by, planted a linden.

Fined Twenty Dollars.

Maria Jackson, a young colored girl, was placed in the docket in the Police Court this morning at the instance of Aaron Jackson, her father, who charged her with using vulgar and abusive language toward him. According to Jackson's statement the girl had acted unnecessary rude, but witnesses, members of the household, old different stories. They said he came home in a drunken condition yesterday and acted in a disorderly manner. They also preferred another charge against him which was corroborated by the daughter. Justice Caton fined Jackson $20 for improper conduct and dismissed the girl. He failed to pay the fine and was locked up, Jackson has been a patron of the Police Court during the past ten years

Cross Libel Suit.

The Norfolk and Washington Steamboat Company has been made defendant in a suit brought in Norfolk in the United States court by Capt. C. W. Drew, master of the schooner Mary P. Misquita, which was in collision with the steamer Norfolk in Chesapeake bay, on the night of March 19 last. Capt. Drew claims damages to his schooner to the amount of $2,800. The Misquita had been libeled by the Norfolk and Washington Company for $9,500 damage done the steamer in the collision, and the schooner had been ordered to be sold by Judge Waddill of the United States court. The filing of the cross libel by Capt. Drew will stop the sale, and the cases will be heard in court.

Warrant Withdrawn.

It is said that the Misses Swann, of Alexandria county, who recently swore out a warrant charging W. K. Martin, the chief engineer of the Washington-Southern Railway, and Francis J. Hill, of the firm of Reiter, Curtis & Hill, railway contractors, with trespass, have withdrawn the warrant.

Police Court.

[Justice H. B. Caton presiding.]

The following cases were disposed of this morning:

Ebey Stanton, colored, arrested by Officer Ferguson charged with disorderly conduct, was fined $2. Ellis Day, colored, who was the complainant in the case, was also fined $2, and later was assessed $2 additional for contempt.

Maria Jackson, colored, arrested by Officer Bell at the instigation of Aaron Jackson, father of the accused, who charged her with using vulgar and abusive language toward him, was dismissed, and the plaintiff fined $20 for improper conduct.

A contractor cited to appear by Lieutenant Smith charged with violating a city ordinance in the paving now in progress at the northwest corner of King and Pitt streets, was dismissed, the accused having reached an understanding with City Engineer Dunn

Mary Brooks, arrested for being drunk and disorderly, was locked up.

John Hughes, charged with being drunk and disorderly, was arrested this morning and locked up.

Bernard Grady, for interfering with men at work on the railroad track on Fayette street, was arrested and locked up. Grady acted in a strange manner claiming that the men were doing his work.

Fined for Contempt.

Among the cases before Justice Caton in the Police Court this morning was that of a young colored woman named Ebey Stanton, who was charged with disorderly conduct. The complainant was Ellis Day, colored, a well-known resident of the northeastern section of the city. The justice, concluding that it was a case of six-of-one and half-a dozen of the other, fined them $2 each. Day appeared surprised, and after fastening his optics on the justice, said, "Thank you, sir." "That will cost you two dollars more," replied the justice. As Day made no movement toward paying the assessments, Officer Young, beckoning to him, said, "Step this way," and Day was soon in the lockup.

New Wholesale House.

Messrs Ferdinand Bendheim and Zora Hill, conducting business under the firm name of Bendheim & Hill, have laid in a large and varied stock of dry goods, notions, ladies' and gentlemen's underwear, furnishing goods, &c. They will transact a wholesale business, and the firm is engaged in an enterprise which will add materially to Alexandria's wholesale trade. The firm is located in an old Alexandria landmark, it being the store on the south side of King street, near Union, so long occupied by the late Joseph Brager and subsequently by Mr. E Goldsmith. The stock of the new firm embraces all goods in their line from the lowest to the finest grades.

The Fishery.

Shad and herring are still many miles down the Potomac, and those received so far are taken from Coan river and other tributaries. Mr. Thomas Perry yesterday received 150 shad and 2,500 herring. Prices were hardening today with indications of an increase. The stiff northwest wind today sent a chill over Fishtown and brought to an end the last evidences of life which had begun to be in evidence at that place. Mr. Wm. Neitzey laid out his large seine at Ferry Landing yesterday. It became entangled in partly submerged logs, limbs of trees, &c., which had been carried down the river by the recent currents and was seriously damaged.

The B and O. Transfer Service.

It is again said that preparations are being made for abolishing the transfer service of the Baltimore and Ohio Railroad between this city and Shepherd's. Railroad crews are now being prepared for the new overland service which will go into effect sometime between the 15th of the present month and the 1st of May. It is said that the slips at Alexandria and Shepherd's will be maintained and used occasionally by the government in the transfer of cars. The transfer between this city and Shepherd's has been in operation about a third of a century.

The Library.

The Portreeve, Eden Phillpotts; Thyra Varrick, Amelia Barr; The Princess Priscilla's Fortnight, Mrs. Earle; The Resurrection of Miss Cynthia, F. M. Kings ley; Randvar, the Songsmith, Otellie Liljencrantz; Cuwayl, Una Silberrad; The Angel of Pain, E. F. Benson; The Healers, Maarten Maartens; The Passport, Richard Bagot; On Honour, E. D. Adams; Marjorie's Quest, Jeanie Lincoln; The Lamp-lighter, Maria Cummins; Peggy, Laura Richards; A Gay Charmer, L. T. Meade, and Miss Fenwick's Failure by Esme Stuart.

Killed by a Train

A young man named Thomas Reardon, of Anacostia, D. C, was found dead alongside the Southern Railway track at Orange last night. It is supposed that the unfortunate man was riding on a train when he fell off and was run over. The authorities of Orange have notified Reardon's parents of the occurrence and they will send for the remains.

The Cameron Club.

The last of the series of lectures given before the Cameron Club will be in Lee Camp Hall Saturday evening, when Miss Janet Richards, of Washington, will speak on "Current Topics." This will be Miss Richards' second appearance before the club this winter, and the members are looking forward to the event with interest.

This has been more like a March than an April day.

There will be a called meeting of the 17th Virginia Regiment Chapter, U. D. C., at Lee Camp Hall Saturday morning at eleven o'clock.

The mild and rainy weather of yesterday and last night was followed by clearing conditions and lower temperature. A stiff northwest wind has prevailed today.

Suicide in a Hotel.

Mrs. Edith Cooper, whose address is given as 2330 Germantown avenue, Philadelphia, committed suicide yester day in the Palmer House, Chicago, by shooting herself through the head. She went to the Palmer house early yesterday with a man about 65 years of age, who registered as Enno Bardelenben, of New York. The woman registered as Mrs. Bardeleben. They were assigned to a room and Bardeleben left the hotel. He returned three hours later and found the room locked. The door was forced open. The woman was dead on the floor, with a revolver on the carpet beside her.

Bardeleben at once declared that the woman was not his wife, and for sometime refused to give her name. He finally told the police that she was Mrs. Edith Cooper, of Providence, and that her husband, from whom she had separated, was an electrical engineer.

Later Bardeleben told the police that Mrs. Cooper's home was at 2330 Germantown avenue, Philadelphia. He said that she had come to Chicago to consult a doctor, but for what cause he did not know.

At the inquest Bardeleben, when shown a dispatch from New York saying that he was a resident of that city, said;

"I am not a resident of New York. When I am there I always stay at the Hoffman House. My home is in Berlin, and I am a dealer in foreign bric-a-brac. I am not married, and have no wife living in New York or anywhere else. I met Mrs. Cooper first in Philadelphia about two years ago. I had seen her but a few times since then until I met her five weeks ago in Pittsburg. She came with me to Chicago to seek medical advice and to see about getting a divorce from her husband. I know of no reason why she should have killed herself, unless she suddenly became despondent over her illness, which she considered incurable."

Hotel Horror.

A dispatch from Nagold, Little Black Forest, Germany, says: The Hotel Zun Hirsch fell yesterday during the progress of a festive dinner. There were 200 persons present, most of whom were buried in the ruins. At 10 o'clock last night 55 dead bodies had been recovered and 100 injured had been taken from the ruins, many of them in a serious condition. Twenty persons still are missing and probably are dead.

The accident is attributed to carelessness on the part of those who were making repairs on the building, which had been raised five feet from the ground in order to give more space for the lower story. The work began early in the morning, and was supposed to have been finished at noon. The keeper of the hotel invited the workmen and a large number of the townspeople to a grand dinner.

The company assembled in the middle banquet-room and was drinking the health of the builder and landlord, when suddenly a crash was heard above. A score of those in the banquet-room jumped from the windows and doors in time to escape, when the house came down with a crash.

The town last night presented an indescribable scene of horror and grief. There is hardly a family but has lost one or more members.

TELEGRAPHIC BREVITIES.

Suicide of Bride.

Dressed in her wedding gown, Mrs. Margaret Lessey, 23 years old, a bride of two months, yesterday attempted suicide in her apartments, 514 east Eighty-second street, New York. She was taken in a dying condition to the Presbyterian Hospital. The young woman is highly educated and comes of a good family. The Lesseys, in their two months of married life, had their first quarrel Wednesday night. What it was about none of the other tenants knew, but yesterday afternoon Rosa Schaefer, the janitress, smelled gas and traced it to the Lessey apartments on the first floor. Her suspicion warranted her breaking in the door. The bride was found lying on her bed dressed in her white wedding gown. Clasped in her hands were the pictures of her husband and of her parents. On Mr. Lessey's photograph was written:

"Good-by, sweetheart. I hope you will be lucky now. MARGARET"

Mrs. Schaefer called an ambulance from the Presbyterian Hospital. Mrs. Schaefer said she had several conversations with the young woman, and that Mrs. Lessey had said that she had married beneath her position, and that later she was sorry she had done so.

Says Men Don't Want Strike.

Rev. Peter Roberts, of Mahanoy City, Pa, who has written two books upon the anthracite industry, is quoted in a statement given out by the operators as declaring that the demands made by the miners are absurd. His statement is in part as follows:

"I do not believe that a majority of the mine workers want a strike. It is my opinion, too, that a mere majority should not decide so serious a question. If the individual opinions of the mine workers were to settle the question at this time there would not be a strike. While they are desirous of higher wages and one hour less per day of work—desires which are quite natural—they prefer to work under the present agreement rather than go on strike. The demands of the miners are absurd. I am surprised that the operators have not made more capital out of that ridiculous list of demands for uniform wages for 146 diffierent classes of labor."

Mayor Resigns.

Mayor Rose, of Kansas City, Mo., resigned Wednesday night after it became evident that his supporters had lost in Tuesday's election. The resignation was unanimosly accepted.

Ever since his election on the democratic ticket a year ago Mayor Rose has been at war with the Kansas State administration and the temperance people of Kansas City over enforcement of the prohibition law. He has favored licensing the saloons, and the State administration has been unable to convict saloon keepers arrested for selling liquor. Mayor Rose made his policy an issue in Tuesday's election for aldermen, and was defeated. An unusually large number of women voted.

Vernon J. Rose, chief of police, a ardent supporter of Mayor Rose, also tendered his resignation, which was accepted.

Measuring Solar Radiations.

Prof. Willis L. Moore, chief of the weather bureau, is having installed at the station on Mount Weather, near Bluemount, delicate apparatus for the measurement of solar radiations and observations in the variation of such radiations. In fact, there will be observations and measurements of the output of solar energy, said Prof. Edward B. Garriott yesterday. These observations and measurement will be of the greatest value, it is said, in determining whether next winter and succeeding seasons will be cold or mild, dry or wet.

Ptomaine Poisoning.

Worcester, Mass., April 5.—More than 100 men, women and children sat down to the supper given by the Women's Association of the Church, in Old South Church Tuesday night, and yesterday all were attacked with a deathly sickness, which physicians say is ptomaine poisoning. No one knows whether the ham or the tongue is responsible for the condition of the diners. None escaped the griping pains from Rev. Francis J. Van Horn down to the smallest child. Many were confined to bed. No dangerous cases have been reported. A chemical analysis will be made of the meat. It was not canned.

Cure For The Blues
ONE MEDICINE THAT HAS NEVER FAILED

Health Fully Restored and the Joy of Life Regained.

When a cheerful, brave, light-hearted woman is suddenly plunged into that perfection of misery, the BLUES, it is a sad picture. It is usually this way: She has been feeling "out of sorts" for some time; head has ached and back also; has slept poorly, been quite nervous, and nearly fainted once or twice; head dizzy, and heart beats very fast; then that bearing-down feeling, and during her periods she is exceedingly despondent. Nothing pleases her. Her doctor says: "Cheer up: you have dyspepsia; you will be all right soon."

But she doesn't get "all right," and hope vanishes; then come the brooding, morbid, melancholy, everlasting BLUES.

Don't wait until your sufferings have driven you to despair, with your nerves all shattered and your courage gone, but take Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. See what it did for Mrs. Rosa Adams, of 819 12th Street, Louisville, Ky., niece of the late General Roger Hanson, C.S.A. She writes:

Dear Mrs. Pinkham:

"I cannot tell you with pen and ink what Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound has done for me. I suffered with female troubles, extreme lassitude, 'the blues,' nervousness and that all-gone feeling. I was advised to try Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, and it not only cured my female derangement, but it has restored me to perfect health and strength. The buoyancy of my younger days has returned, and I do not suffer any longer with despondency, as I did before. I consider Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound a boon to sick and suffering women."

If you have some derangement of the female organism write Mrs. Pinkham, Lynn, Mass., for advice.

NATIONAL TOILET COMPANY, Paris, Tenn.

A WOMAN TO BE PRETTY

Must Have Luxuriant and Glossy Hair, No Matter What Color.

The finest contour of a female face, the sweetest smile of a female mouth, loses something if the head is crowned with scant hair. Scant and falling hair, it is now known, is caused by a parasite that burrows into the scalp to the root of the hair, where it saps the vitality. The little white scales the germ throws up in burrowing are called dandruff. To cure dandruff permanently, then, and to stop falling hair, that germ must be killed. Newbro's Herpicide, an entirely new result of the chemical laboratory, destroys the dandruff germ, and, of course, stops the falling hair, and prevents baldness. Sold by leading druggists. Send 10c. in stamps for sample to The Herpicide Co., Detroit, Mich.
